

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

Alexandria Gazette

FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 30.

PLAIDERS AND JAQUETINERS.—The old theory, which allowed blonde to wear red, blue flowers and ribbons, and cars gaily made her look resplendent, has been very nearly extinguished during the last half dozen years, and the fancy dress Jaquettines may utterly destroy it. These sumptuous blossoms are beautiful when worn by a blonde who knows how to make them contrast with black lace, but they are the best when they adorn a blonde who chooses to wear them like roses of creamy orange, dressed with antique pearls, and to have it wear great clusters of J. C. quantum beads and half-paved gloves just placed at the belt and high on the life of the blouse opening at the throat, and gathered at the hem. The sly rose that nests among the pluff of the top of her hair brings out the gold at her hair, and tensils the richness of her eyes, and makes her one of the prettiest girls ever seen at a dinner party.—Potter's American Monthly.

HINTS TO THE SLEEPLESS.—Wet a cloth with cold water and lay it on the back of the neck; fold a towel smoothly over it, and very often it will open the weary brain and quiet the nerves better than an opiate. It is particularly useful in case of a dull headache.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

By virtue of authority vested in us by the State Central Committee, we hereby designate Wednesday, the 23d day of August, 1850, as the time, and Alexandria the place, for holding a convention to nominate the Democratic candidate for Congress in the 8th Congressional District of Virginia.

The basis of representation will be one delegate and one alternate to every one hundred voters and fractions of one hundred exceeding fifty cast for Thales and Hendricks in 1849.

Delegates to said convention are to be selected by county, district or ward meetings, or primary election by wards or districts, as the various county or city committees may elect, and such names as the respective county or city committees may determine; provided, that if district or ward meetings or primary elections are adopted, such meetings or elections in any one county or city shall be held on the same day.
